Prophets Discuss Results If Presidential Campaign Next Year Should Bring Deadlock in Electoral College

SENATE WOULD THEN HAVE MATTER IN CHARGE

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—With rumors of a third party movement thickening the political atmosphere, Republican and Democratic politicians are figuring on what might happen should a presidential free-for-all next year result in a deadlock in the Electoral College.

One surprising deduction is the remote possibility, conditioned on many an "if" and "and," that President Coolidge might eventually be called upon to cast the deciding vote to determine whether he himself should step into the presidential limelight.

Still beyond that lies the chance, however far removed from the realm of probability, that whoever is secretary of state on March 4, 1925, may automatically become president without a single vote being cast for him in any state or in any part of the governmental mechanism.

Here is the language of the constitution, upon which these freak possibilities are predicted:

"The person having the greatest number of votes for president (in the Electoral College) shall be president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as president, the House of Representatives shall choose, immediately, by ballot, for president."

"But in choosing the president the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a president whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them before the fourth day of March following, then the vice-president shall act as president."

"The person having the greatest number of votes as vice-president shall be the vice-president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list the Senate shall choose a vice-president."

Thus, say the political puzzle-sharks, if a three-cornered fight next year splits the electoral vote into segments each smaller than a majority, the House must make a try at it. But in the House as it is now constituted, and as it will remain except for deaths and resignations up to March 4, 1925, neither the Republicans nor Democrats can control a majority of the state delegations. With one vote allotted to a state, twenty-three states would vote Republican, twenty states Democratic, and five—Maryland, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Montana and New Jersey—having delegations evenly divided between the two parties, presumably would not be able to vote at all.

That in turn, would seem to fulfill the contingency described in the constitution as requiring the vice-president to become president. But with the Electoral College deadlock, it first would be the duty of the Senate to choose a vice-president. And in case of a tie, the vice-president would have the deciding voice.

Harr and others were also charged with transporting in like quantities liquor from storage and distributing points such as Louisville, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and New York City. DEVELOP PLANS
ON BAPTIST CAMP

Meeting Tonight in Pineville to Discuss Plans—All Lots Laid Out Already Sold

A committee meeting will be held in Pineville tonight to complete plans in the organization of the Clear Creek Springs camping ground. One hundred lots have already been sold for this camp and there are several hundred other applications that can not be filled until the property is laid out under the direction of a land-lease archipelago. There will be at least one thousand and lots at this location, eventually.

The members of the committee in charge of this matter are: Rev. L. C. Kelly, Dr. L. C. Brandenburg, Dr. E. D. Wilson, and R. P. Atkins of Pineville, and Judge J. E. Evans, Judge J. P. Bosworth, J. W. Allison, Judge J. R. Sampson and Rev. S. P. Martin of Middlesboro.

The proposition of the Baptists of Middlesboro and Pineville for this camping ground is one of the most ideal possible. The place they propose to build will have an athletic field, a golf course, lakes formed by damming the creeks, with fishing, boating and swimming in abundance. Cottages will be built or tents erected on the lots and owners of them may enjoy there the delights of a real summer resort.

The Baptists plan to hold summer conventions there and will build a large infirmary there for that purpose. A little later a summer college is expected to be instituted which will prove a great thing for the people of this section.

Although the Baptists have purchased the site and will be in charge of developing this resort, it will not be sectarian and will be open to the public to buy lots and to enjoy the place.

HARLAN BOY KILLED
IN PLANE WRECK

John Ward, Jr., Son Former Harlan Sheriff, Was on Tour of East With Other Boys

John Ward, Jr., of Harlan died yesterday morning in Washington, D. C., of concussion of the brain caused by a fall from an airplane near Washington Tuesday. Young Ward, who is about sixteen years old, was through here last Thursday with three other boys bound on a sight-seeing motor trip through the east. He is the son of John A. Ward, proprietor of the Ward Hotel at Harlan, formerly sheriff of Harlan county and prominent citizen of that place.

Bertram M. Stewart of Washington, pilot of the airplane, was instantly killed when the plane fell. The accident occurred across the Potomac river from Washington. Ward had gone up with Stewart in his sight-seeing plane when something went wrong with the machine and it plunged one thousand feet to the ground.

Ward, with Jack Whitfield, Raymond Outback and Gray Hoskins arrived here Thursday on their way east in Hoskins' car and spent last Thursday night at the Hotel Cumberland. The Ward family is well-known here and have relatives in this vicinity.

News of the accident was telegraphed to Mr. Ward at Harlan Tuesday night. The father left immediately for Washington but the boy was dead before he reached there. Besides his parents, two sisters, Thelma and Lucy and one brother, Jim, survive young Ward. His body will be brought back to Harlan today.

ATTACK COOLIDGE
FOR NAMING SLEMP

Democratic Committee Sees Bid For Southern Support in 1924 Campaign

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Appointment of C. Bascom Slemm as secretary to President Coolidge was the occasion today for the democratic national committee's first attack on the executive since he took over his new duties.

In a statement issued through its publicity department, the committee said the selection of Mr. Slemm, who for years represented the ninth Virginia district in the house of representatives, was "tantamount to an official announcement that President Coolidge is a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1924 and that the appointment is the first step to round up delegates for the southern states for Coolidge."

Declaring that Mr. Slemm was exposed on the floor of the house December 15, 1922, in connection with the alleged trafficking in offices by Republicans in southern states, the statement said that his appointment as secretary to the president "came both as a surprise and a shock to the whole country, because it carries with it necessarily an endorsement of office jobbery in the south."

PRIVATE SECRETARY TO GOVERNOR MORROW
ON VACATION HERE

An interesting visitor in Middlesboro this month is Miss Goldie Hardin, private secretary to Governor Edwin P. Morrow, who, with Miss Mary Watkins of Frankfort, is spending her entire vacation in Middlesboro. To both ladies it is the first visit to Middlesboro and they are astounded and delighted with the town and with the country roundabout.

Miss Hardin is from Fort Thomas originally and she has been Governor Morrow's secretary since he was district attorney of Campbell county. When he was elected to the highest office in the state and moved to Frankfort, Miss Hardin went with him and took over the increased duties incumbent with the position of private secretary to the governor of the state.

Miss Hardin speaks enthusiastically of the place of woman in the business world and says she believes the time is entirely just when people, even in the south, consider woman out of her sphere in business. She is particularly interested in women's work in politics. Miss Hardin and Miss Thomas have visited the lake, the golf links, Cumberland Gap and various other places of interest around Middlesboro and have nothing but praise for it all.

CONVENTION
HERE TONIGHT

Gala Night Last Night Most Enjoyable Occasion—Dancing, Fireworks and Music Furnish Entertainment

PROMISED BIG TIME
ON LYNCH VISIT TODAY

The carnival spirit, in all possible glory and festiveness, reigned at the Elks' gala night held last night at the corner of Edgewood road and Twentieth street. Thousands of people were in attendance, in their cars parked for blocks along the side of the streets, on the benches which lined the sidewalks, standing, sitting, walking and talking everywhere.

Twentieth street from Edgewood to Lothary avenue was roped off for the dance and bright-colored Japanese lanterns, strung backward and forward across the street in this section, shed a holiday light on the dancers. Music by the excellent Elks' orchestra started the dancing at 9 o'clock and wound it up about midnight.

A special feature of the evening was the brilliant display of fireworks on the vacant lot on this corner. Sky rockets, Roman candles, star fountains and other varieties of fireworks came to a grand finale in a blazing display which spelled out "ELKS". Confetti, soft drinks, hors d'oeuvres and other carnival accompaniments were dispensed at a stand in the middle of the vacant lot. William Wallbrecht was in charge of the entertainment for the festive occasion.

The Elks' local and visiting, left early this morning for Lynch where they were promised a rousing time. The Elks at that place had appropriated $2500 for the express purpose of royally entertaining their visitors to-day and they asked that all arrangements for the day be left in their hands. The special train returns to Middlesboro at 6:30 o'clock this evening and a big dance at the Booneway Inn will finish the week's festivities.

TENSE SITUATION
IN OHIO AFTER
ATTACK ON KLAN

Two Seriously Wounded in Duel Last Night, Others Hurt in Skirmishes—Result of Recent Election Campaign

KLANSMEN OF DISTRICT
MUCH UPSET BY MATTER

By Associated Press
STREIBENVILLE, O., Aug. 16.—A tense situation prevailed here today and police prepared for quick action to prevent repetition of an outbreak last night against the Ku Klux Klan which culminated in a duel between Darwin Gibson, said to be a Klan officer and a group of men who fired on him as he was driving along a darkened street. Earlier in the evening an hundred men, said to be members of the Klan from a nearby town, were attacked on a down town street and a score were badly beaten.

The disturbance came from an exciting election campaign in which a candidate for mayor said to have the backing of the Klan organization was defeated by a narrow margin. Gibson was shot at the base of the brain. John Desnot is in the hospital with an eye shot out and another man is wounded.

The city just began to quiet down after the outbreak when a delegation of Klansmen arrived from East Liverpool in automobiles. Although they were heavily armed they were dispersed by the sheriff and police. It was reported today that the Klansmen had issued a call for a great conclave tonight of Knights from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Officials are much concerned about it.

OFFICERS FIND STILL
AS HOUSEHOLDER FLEES

TAZEWELL, Tenn., Aug. 16.—Sheriff A. J. Greer, assisted by Deputies John Greer and W. P. Mountain, made a raid last week at the home of Greene Lynch of near Pleasant Point in the Second District of this county.

After receiving information that Greene Lynch was said to be causing trouble in that neighborhood by manufacture and selling whisky, the officers obtained search warrants, when they were about a half a mile from the house a friend of Lynch saw them and ran to warn Lynch, the officers said. The officers sickened their pace and arrived at the house before any warning reached Lynch.

The officers crept into the house without any alarm and found Lynch engaged in washing fannels and vessels in which to put whisky they reported.

The officers told their business and Lynch replied that they were welcome to search his house for anything they wanted to, and that he would go and get a key from his wife so that they could search a room which was locked. In the meantime the officers busted themselves in searching and found in the garret a 16-gallon copper still that had just been used as it was hot and about a gallon of whisky and several 20-gallon jars of beers which was fermented. The officers then sought out Lynch but he had made his get away while the officers chased him about a mile but could never overtake him.

When they returned to the house Lynch's wife was very angry, the officers said, and said that her husband should not be bothered as his enemies had been "lawing" him and he was trying to get money with which to defend himself in suits.

Insufficiency

There is no one beside thee and no one above thee.
Thou standest alone as the nightingale sings!
And my words that would praise
thee are impotent things.
For none can express thee though all should approve thee.
I love thee so, dear, that I only can
love thee.

Say, what can I do for thee; weary thee, grieve thee?
Lean on my shoulder, new burdens
to add?
Weep my tears over thee, making
thee sad?
Oh, hold me not—love me not! let me
retrieve thee.
I love thee so, dear, that I only can
love thee.

Physical Culture Expert Tells How To Keep Beauty, Youth in Lessons

One of Old Age's most formidable enemies today is Anne Dolan, titian-haired, Irish and determined, who is teaching thousands of women how to stay young and healthy.

Her physical culture studio in New York is one place where you are sure to see celebrities—beauties of the stage and screen who can't afford to show their years, society women who could afford to but won't and business and professional women who are too clever to let anything outwit them—
all learning her secrets of health and beauty.

"Today the woman of 40 who is not as lithe of figure and as radiant of complexion as she was at 20 is neglecting the opportunity of living in this enlightened age," Miss Dolan says.

"Any woman will naturally protect herself from the inroads of time if she preserves her health," she continues.
"When you see your skin becoming cal-
low and wrinkled, when sagging muscles and increasing flesh destroy the symmetry of the figure, it is only nature's way of warning you that your youth is dying and must be revived."

Can Be Revived

"Fading beauty is dying tissue, and scientists have proved that as the life-giving cells of the body are destroyed,
pleasant care and hygienic living can restore them."

"We must supply this new energy to our vital forces. We must aid nature in restoring perfect harmony so that the rich, life-giving blood can renew the youthful contour of face and figure through the glow of perfect health."

Tell-Tale Signs

Many women make the mistake of plant will serve six persons.

Dried corn is an old-fashioned dish that few housekeepers appreciate these days. It has a delicious nutty sort of taste quite unusual. If there are two or three ears of corn left from dinner, scrape the corn from the cob
and spread thinly on a dripping pan or pie pans and dry slowly in the oven while making toast. When brittle, store in clean paper bags. You will be surprised how soon you will have two or three cups of dried corn.
And a cup of dried corn will serve four persons when prepared for a meal.
This is an excellent way to use leftover corn during the season.

Canned Corn

Thick corn and carefully pick out silk. Put corn into a large kettle of boiling water and boil ten minutes.
The kettle should be big enough to comfortably contain the corn and allow each ear to be immersed in water. Drain from boiling water and plunge into cold water. Let stand one minute and drain.

This blanching process is not absolutely necessary for corn, but it insures keeping and makes firm individual kernels. Corn that is to be used in made dishes is quite as satisfactorily if canned without blanching and it does save time to eliminate two handlings.

After blanching, cut corn from cob.
This must be done carefully that no
hard portions of the kernel are scraped out. Cut the tops from the kernels and scrape out the heart with the blunt side of the knife. Pack in jars, add 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon sugar to a quart.

If corn is packed tightly, and this saves cans and space, pour boiling water over corn, filling can to within 2-
of an inch from the top. Half seal and process. Boil three hours in hot water bath, counting from the time the water begins to boil after putting in cans.

The cans will cool the water. The water should cover the cans by at least an inch. Add boiling water as necessary. Keep cover on boiler during processing. Remove from boiler and finish sealing. Cool as quickly as possible, taking care that no draft strikes
the cans.

Corn for canning or drying should be full grown but "in the milk." As corn ripens the milk sets and becomes firm and the hulls of the kernels grow hard. Corn in this state is not satisfactory for canning. Immature corn is tasteless and watery.

Dried Corn

Remove husks and silk. Blanch as in preceding recipe. Cut from cob, cutting half way to the cob and scraping out hearts with blunt edge of knife. Spread on drying trays in thin layers and dry in slow oven or on top of cool range.

Drying trays are good investment.
They can be used year after year for all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

Corn Salad

Twelve ears corn, 1 head cabbage, 2

sweet red peppers, 2 green peppers, 3
Bermuda onions, 1 1-2 cups sugar, 1 1-2 tablespoons salt, 1 tablespoon mustard, 1 1-2 quarts vinegar.

Cut corn from cob. Drop peppers in boiling water, let stand five minutes and slip off thin covering of skin.
Remove seeds and white fiber. Chop cabbage and onions. Mix vegetables with salt and sugar. Put in preserving kettle with vinegar, add mustard
mixed to a smooth paste with cold water, bring to the boiling point and boil half an hour. Pour into sterilized jars and seal while boiling hot.

750 Members Breakstone Clan Gather for Reunion

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—There will be a remarkable family gathering here today when the greater part of the 750
known members of the Breakstone clan gather in a family reunion. Representatives of the clan have come from New York, Pennsylvania, Iowa, District of Columbia, Ohio, West Virginia, Mississippi, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, New Jersey and Canada.

The clan springs from a common ancestor bearing the name of Breakstone.
The Breakstone-Breestone family traces its origin to a small town found by the clan in Lithuania, called Ponemon. The family name was adopted in the early part of the nineteenth century, following an edict of Nicholas the First of Russia compelling every family head to assume a surname, a practice therefore unknown in that part of the world.

A remarkable thing stamps this family in that five brothers and two sisters, all married and with families of their own, found shelter under the same roof in Ponemon, all living in a patriarchal state similar to that known to biblical times. They occupied a large estate still known as the "Breg-stone Estate," each member of the family enjoying it as if he owned it all, yet possessing nothing, the eldest brother being the patriarch of the clan. His word was law, although he ruled by persuasion and inherent leadership rather than domination.

With the empire taking its course westward, the clan found with it many members of this pioneering family.
There are about 750 of them in the United States. The father of the five brothers and sisters, named Beryl,
was the first to assume the family name. Of those living now in this country Irving Breakstone is serving a second term as State's Attorney for the County of Oconto, Wisconsin;
Philip P. Bregstone recently completed a term on the bench in the Probate Court in Chicago. Dr. Benjamin U.
Breakstone is the surgeon who came into international prominence when he was called in to perform the operation
upon the famous Siamese twins; Abraham Breakstone is attorney to the sheriff of New York county; Isadore Levy, nephew of Dr. Breakstone, won a scholarship abroad, having had one of his paintings exhibited in the Paris Salon. One Etienne Bregstone of Amsterdam, Holland, bought all the wheat for Holland during the world war, holding a position similar to that held by Herbert Hoover in this country.

The family contributed 75 members of the A. E. F. during the late war, more than 25 per cent of whom were commissioned, and all of whom were in combatant branches of the service.
In the World War members of the clan were fighting on every battlefield, according to Jerome S. Breakstone, chairman of the family reunion.

Phrenologist Sees Ability, Courage And Foresight in President Calvin Coolidge

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A scientific analysis of President Coolidge has been made by Jesse Allen Fowler, noted phrenologist who has traced and named the faculties which give him the proof of the power he is destined to show in the White House.

The cranial particularly forming an interesting feature of the ability, courage and foresight possessed by Calvin Coolidge to take up the duties thrust upon him as suddenly as president of the United States.

He has the mental type of temperament which makes a student of the mind and a planner rather than a practical man. He is quite calm and preferring to wait out his own ideas rather than those of others when he believes that he is right and others are wrong.

Sagacious and intuitive he is able to understand people in the use of and ought to know how to handle large groups of men successfully. The people at Boston know that as they have heard his logical arguments. He is no trifler but is serious and he means what he says as well as says what he means.

His intellect is exceptionally high which gives him a keen consciousness of spirit and inclination to be the mind himself and expect others to do the same. He is a law-abiding man and he expects others to be law-abiding too.

Breadth of head over the ears gives him the ability to put a principle to its conclusion.

Thin lips between the fact that he can hold his own counsel and reserve until the right time comes to express them.

PHYSIOLOGICAL DIAGRAM OF PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S HEAD

These faculties combined show that a large number of his will allow him to overcome a subject in a purely intellectual manner rather than from an emotional basis. These faculties expressed in his head are: 1. Perseverance, 2. Love of Nature, 3. Foresight, 4. Analysis, 5. Reason, 6. Courage, 7. Energy, 8. Eyes, Resolution, 9. Fair Language, 10. Nose, Will Power, 11. Lips, Reticence, 12. Long Chin Tenacity.

SOME INTERESTING SIDELIGHTS AND LORE ON THE WILY TROUT

It is a fair cry from chugging fish to catch a trout, the wily fish of the trout family, the wily fish of the trout family.

I've gone through the various stages of trout fishing, from the first catch to the last, and I can tell you that it is a most interesting and profitable sport.

It is the same story as the rabbit hunter, only the trout is more elusive and the hunter is more patient.

trout. (Why a trout should be a trout is a matter of course.)

The sea trout of the marinating process is not the sea trout of the trout family. This fish is speckled trout and tastes like the sea trout of the trout family.

Get Them With Spinners. The custom of using spinners in trout fishing is a most interesting and profitable sport. It is a fair cry from chugging fish to catch a trout, the wily fish of the trout family.

On a recent trip to Algonquin Park, Ontario, I was fishing for trout. I put on a spinner in the hope of catching a trout. A large trout took the spinner on the first cast and is the only one I have caught yet.

Tomorrow—The same fish of the trout family.

Step That Headache

During the past few years the constant strain on business has been a most interesting and profitable sport. It is a fair cry from chugging fish to catch a trout, the wily fish of the trout family.

But more than this it means a most interesting and profitable sport. It is a fair cry from chugging fish to catch a trout, the wily fish of the trout family. I've gone through the various stages of trout fishing, from the first catch to the last, and I can tell you that it is a most interesting and profitable sport.

Find Cause First

The majority of people try to cure the headache itself rather than to remedy the conditions that induce headache. Try to find a cause or source and apply the remedy where it belongs. It may be merely overexertion and ventilation or thinking too much. In such cases a good pillow will effect a cure. Don't expect a headache to vanish in a few moments. Go slow, give your stomach time to rest by taking light meals for a day or so.

Light shoes are a frequent cause of headaches. Of course the water would not admit the shoes were too tight and consequently no cause for that day's headache could be found. Wear proper fitting shoes and within the first few days your headache will vanish.

Office men and women frequently bring on a headache by assuming a slouching posture during their office hours. The blood of the abdomen tends to stagnate in the liver and the spleen and circulation. To remedy this condition be careful to sit and walk erect. And don't forget fresh air and outdoor exercise.

The abdominal muscles must remain firm to afford support to the abdomen with its large blood vessels.

Nostalgia Is Dangerous

Nausea and sickness that bring on headaches are from a disturbance of the stomach. Car sickness and headache are brought on by the same cause. You may have teeth that need attention that cause your headache. Any irritation of the nasal passages will cause a troubling pain. Keep the nasal passages open for the full supply of oxygen.

The occasional sufferer from headache should leave of taking head and neck. Most headache remedies so-called contain depressants which affect the brain action. It has been stated in a previous article that head disease is on the increase in the United States. Worry, indigestion and speed, and combined with the frequent use of powerful headache remedies, are undoubtedly the cause. Stop the headache, your physician can help you to properly diagnose its cause.

Sputter and Spatium. Health officials everywhere in our country have the authority to see that laws are strictly enforced against the sputter in public.

Complaints in the larger cities flare up against the nuisance every once in a while and disappear. The writer noticed in Chicago the other day the filthy condition of street corners and the stink and platforms of the elevated stations on account of this foul habit.

The sputter is your enemy. He is no respecter of persons. He spits at any and all times just when and where the fancy takes him. The expectorator in public places is dangerous habit for this is a most interesting and profitable sport. It is a fair cry from chugging fish to catch a trout, the wily fish of the trout family. I've gone through the various stages of trout fishing, from the first catch to the last, and I can tell you that it is a most interesting and profitable sport. It is the same story as the rabbit hunter, only the trout is more elusive and the hunter is more patient.

THE 1924 STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX SEDAN $1550

The Closed Car You Buy Now You'll Use Next Winter

Any owner who has felt winter winds whistling through the ill fitting doors and flimsy panels of a makeshift closed car knows there is no substitute for quality.

The 1924 Model Studebaker Light Six Sedan you buy now will not only serve you admirably this winter and next winter, but will endure for years.

It is sturdily built for long hard service to ride comfortably to look well and to operate at a moderate expense.

And when you are ready to trade it in on a new car the depreciation will be reasonable. Studebaker used car values are high because of Studebaker's inherent merit. And there is always a market for used Studebakers.

The substantial hard wood and steel body with its broad windows and four side doors is its rich monochromatic plush upholstery, and many refinements, is a model of Studebaker craftsmanship.

Construction of the chassis is an achievement in the use of precision methods in large scale manufacture. Proof of this lies in the strength of all surfaces of the chassis and connecting rods to which is largely due its virtual freedom from vibration. This is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars at this price.

The smooth running Light Six motor has made friends everywhere for its durability, power and flexibility just as it has for its economy and reliability.

The Light Six Sedan is low priced because it is built complete by Studebaker in large volume, but the extra cheap thing about it is its above par in every particular.

Studebaker's reputation for producing high class transportation for 71 years is worth considering when you buy a car.

Four wide opening doors. Eight day clock. Quick action coil vent motor. Atractive coach lamps. Heater. Motor velvet plush upholstery. Glass proof floor and windshield cleaner. Dome light. Theft proof transmission lock.

CONVENTION IS DISCUSSED AT KIWANIS TODAY

Plans For Program, Decorating and Entertainment Being Completed
—Road Map To Be Compiled
Soon

RESOLUTIONS ON RAIL- ROAD LEGISLATION PASS

One of the smallest attendances in weeks characterized the Kiwanis club luncheon today noon, but a program made up of one-minute, very extemporaneous talks by members whose names were drawn from the attendance cards, served to make the meeting an enjoyable one. Jack Caldwell was chairman. The speaker for the day failed to come.

The main topic of conversation at this time was the approaching district convention. President A. P. Liebig said that he would confer with Boyd Ford, district secretary, this week and have the entire program ready to present to the club at its next regular meeting. He also announced that a professional decorator would be here next week to arrange for decorating the streets, places of business, hotels and other places for the convention. He mentioned in particular decorating the Middlesboro Motor Co. garage, just across from the hotel, where the big Kiwanis banquet will be held during the convention.

Several Kiwanians who had been visiting other clubs recently told of the enthusiasm they found over the convention and predicted a large attendance from all over the district. A number of delegates plan to drive through for the convention and it was decided at the luncheon today to get out a road long to be sent out to the various clubs to give them information on the conditions of the roads around here. Mr. Liebig said that the construction crew would be at work surfacing the Fazzewell road at this time and a detour might be necessary there. He said that the Hubbard Construction Company had promised that, if they had not completed the East End construction to Tenth street at the time for the convention, they would scarpify and roll the uncompleted part at their own expense.

The following resolutions, read at last meeting, have been passed by the committee to which they were referred:

Whereas, the railroads are apparently encouraged by the present Interstate Commerce Law to add to their equipment, improve their facilities, and have been handling a large volume of freight in a satisfactory manner, and

Whereas, the prosperity of the United States largely depends upon railroad transportation for its success to all inland points, and

Whereas, the railroads as a whole at this time are giving excellent service, and rates are subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, thus insuring the shipping public reasonable charges for transportation, and

Whereas a net operating income of 5 3-4 per cent is considered by the Interstate Commerce Commission, as a fair return to the railroads, but not guaranteed, and

Whereas, it is our sincere belief that the railroad managers are making a consistent effort to render real service to the public under the Transportation Act of 1920,

Be it resolved, that they be permitted to operate their properties without further restrictive legislation, and Be it further resolved, that we are opposed to any effort of political demagogues or others to create conditions that would lead the people to think that government ownership is the solution of the so-called railroad problem.

Be it further resolved, that the Kiwanis club of Middlesboro, Ky., declares its confidence in the ability of the railroad managers and the Interstate Commerce Commission to solve transportation difficulties as they present themselves, and that this club go on record as opposing any change whatever in the Transportation Act, until it is demonstrated conclusively that it is in need of revision, as our belief is that conditions since 1920 have not been such that a fair trial has been given the present law.
